CMMC: A COMPLIANCE PRIMER

BROUGHT TO YOU BY

CMMC: A Compliance Primer

We are a 501(c)(3) nonprofit delivering research, technology, and human and business solutions via The Science of Intelligent Teaming™ to our government, industry, and academic clients in Ohio and the Nation.

We define the The Science of Intelligent Teaming™ as basic and applied research of highly diverse artificial intelligence, machine, and human teams and how they interact and perform with one another.

Together with academia, we accelerate innovation that leads to new breakthroughs. Together with government, we tackle critical global challenges and deliver new solutions. Together with industry, we develop groundbreaking ideas and speed them to market. This is where everything comes together. This is why Parallax is here.

Logos for: Ohio Department of Economic Development, Ohio State University, Parallax Advanced Research, Ohio Federal Research Network, DECA Direct Export Council, and International Trade Administration.

ITAR Export Compliance June 8 & 9

This program will help you understand how to comply with U.S. export control laws and regulations. It will cover topics that are not only of importance to the aerospace industry but also aerospace technology that is a concern for other government agencies, academia, research and development institutions.

Ohio Federal Research Network
Driving Innovation Through Strategic Partnerships

OFRN is a State of Ohio-focused research and development program that was established by Parallax and the Ohio Department of Higher Education in 2014.

OFRN's mission is to stimulate Ohio's innovation economy by funding R&D projects that meet federal laboratory requirements and build statewide university and industry collaborations.

OFRN's vision is to be Ohio's go-to solution for creating R&D partnerships among academia, industry and government; driving economic development through innovation; and promoting and expanding Ohio's expanding Ohio's aerospace legacy.
